Stuck in the Middle (East) with Stu

J&C Joel's Technical Co-ordinator, Stuart Fraser, has escaped the bleak British winter and is currently in the Middle East heading up a major project at Zayed University's Abu Dhabi campus.

Stuart has been part of J&C Joel's installation team for five years and has worked on a wide range of projects in venues including arenas, convention centres, theatres and educational establishments; however this installation presents a new challenge.

Stuart will be working on site for six months overseeing the installation of stage machinery in the university's theatre, including counter weight sets, power-flying sets, a safety curtain and five pit lifts.

Everyone at J&C Joel wishes Stuart the very best of luck while working out in the United Arab Emirates and we look forward to having him back in our head office in June.

Installing quality, every time

Zayed University is a centre of excellence focusing on innovation, inspiration and education. The University's new state of the art theatre, situated on Zayed's Abu Dhabi campus, will help to increase and improve the services offered to it's students, and J&C Joel have a major role to play in it's preparation.

Our installation team has a great deal of experience of undertaking projects in all manner of education establishments, including schools, colleges and universities. Whether stage curtains and curtain tracks or a full installation of stage machinery, J&C Joel can cater to any requirement.
