Jim'll Fix it with Shane Richie: December 2011

Jim'll Fix It is one of the best-loved TV programmes of the past thirty years on British television, running between 1975 and 1994. J&C Joel were proud to be involved in a one-off remake of the show, which saw Shane Richie host the show in place of the late Sir Jimmy Savile.

Jim'll Fix it with Shane Richie was screened on 26 December 2011 and made the dreams of children from across the UK come true. The show also featured an appearance by British Formula 1 driver, Lewis Hamilton.

J&C Joel manufactured a custom-made red Joelastic (JOS006) drape for the production that was suspended over the set. The two metre wide, unlined drape was made to emulate the red ribbons of the famed Jim'll Fix It medallions that were handed out to children who appeared on the show. The drape was constructed from two lengths of Joelastic measuring 50 metres and 30 metres respectively and was hemmed on all sides.
